- Adam Azzam was a great TA in that he very effectively explained all of the topics covered during lecture. His explanations were very all-encompassing and he always made sure that the class had an adequate number of examples before moving on.

- Adam aaas great! I really liked his teaching style, he does a good job of explaining the material.

- Great!

- Personally, I feel that the instructor should assign more challenging homework problems each week so that we would feel more prepared for the midterms and final exams, because every time I took the midterm, I always encountered some problems that were never seen in the homework. Sometimes, I felt the homework was a little too easy. The textbook is not bad, and the grading is fair, although I feel that the homework grading should be uploaded more quickly because sometimes, it takes weeks before the homework grade is updated. Also, the professor for the course will sometimes be late and I feel he teaches in a flurry, meaning at times, I feel he doesn't know what he is teaching. He ends up getting confused.

- The Teaching Assistant in my opinion was the best from all the available Teaching Assistants for this course. He was very social when interacting with students. He only went over subjects students were having the most trouble with. He catered his office hours to the availability of the students and he was very mindful of how hard some of the assigned work was and tried to tailor his examples to the same amount of difficulty as the problems assigned for homework.

- Very helpful discussions. addressed our needs and helped solve those specific problems
